3 more candidates in race this week

Candidates for state representative, chancery clerk and sheriff-collector in the August Democratic primary are issuing their formal announcements this week.

Lone incumbent to make known plans to Marjorie E. Quintini who is seeking a second term as chancery clerk. She served as a deputy in the office for a number of years before winning four years ago.

The number to announce for sheriff inched up again this week with the entry of Thomas J. Whitefield. The 53-year-old county native is a male nurse at Hancock General Hospital and has served in both the Marines and Navy.

C.L. Thompson of Caesar, a former member of the Pearl River County board of supervisors, came out for Post No. 1 of the Hancock-Pearl River district for the state house of representatives. A tunc and beef cattle farmer, Thompson is employed by Cook Brothers Leasing Co. at Mississippi Test Facility.

Allocations included $3,000 to the American Red Cross; $2,650 to Hancock Assn. for Retarded Children; $2,000 to Hancock County Emergency Relief; $1,350 each to the Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts; $850 to the Gulf Coast Assn. for Mental Health; $600 to the blood bank; and $400 to the United Services Organization.

Further payments will be made as funds are received. United Fund officers expressed appreciation to all volunteers who assisted with the campaign and invited qualified agencies to inquire about membership.

Seek expert aid on sanitary fill

Advice of an expert from the State Health Department will be sought to determine what is needed for a sanitary landfill here.

Wayne Alliston, county sanitarian, was authorized by the board of supervisors Monday to get the engineer in to tell him what kind of land to look for and various other aspects of the operation.

Alliston suggested that some property owners might be interested in arrangements to fill a part of their land and create a pond in another section, providing the fill dirt from that. Any location would have to be fenced in to keep hogs out.

Charles Jolly of Mississippi Road Supply explained a bulldozer with a 4 in 1 bucket, designed in the 1940s as a single machine to service landfills, which is extensively used.

Garbage collection in the annexed areas of Bay St. Louis and Waveland is aiding the problem somewhat, Alliston said, but it is still bad in Lakeshore and Clermont Harbor. Mayors of the two municipalities have been expected to consult further with the supervisors about a fill last Monday.

The highway department's state aid division notified the board it would make its annual inspection of state aid roads May 19 but supervisors caught a delay because inclement weather has delayed their scheduled repairs.

No bids were received on painting-tax reception and the board directed readvertising for bids at the first June meeting.

George W. Wier, county engineer, was authorized to make another attempt to obtain a railing on the new beach road at a meeting Wednesday between members of the Bay-Waveland Beach Front Property Owners Assn., and three members of the county board of supervisors in the home of E. M. Rowley at Waveland.

For county schools

Ponder new $300,000 bond issue

After studying a breakdown of funds available to the county school district prepared by R. J. McGinnis, a county auditor formerly assigned to this area, Hancock County Board of Supervisors agreed at a meeting held at this time at a meeting called for this purpose Monday night.

Hoffman's report showed that the bonds could be retired with no increase in taxes, according to an interest rate of 4.1 per cent, an average saving of $1.50 per $100 of bonds.

The trustees concurred in the need for a building program, including additional classrooms. The only question was whether sufficient revenue was available to service the bond. Superintendent Robert L. Hoffman said Wednesday that he had checked with Hoffman while attending a meeting at Jackson Tuesday and that Hoffman had indicated that the county would be available under the existing high mill levy.

Numerous projects were discussed but it was decided that before presenting the proposed bonds to the board of supervisors, a list of completed projects should be prepared including estimated cost.

35 new street lights due for annexed area

Installation of 35 street lights by Coast Electric Power Assn. in the western portion of Bay St. Louis' recently annexed area was authorized Tuesday by City Commission Council.

The locations were determined in a survey completed by the power co-op. With the seven lights Coast Electric already has in Spanish Acres subdivision, this will bring to 42 the total of new lights. Work is to start right away and should be finished in two weeks.

Mississippi Power Co., which is franchised to serve the eastern half of the area has been asked to prepare a similar study.

Under their franchise, both firms charge the city the same rates. Commissioner of Utilities J. Cyril Glover estimated the lights authorized this week will run about $110 a month.

The two companies pay the Bay rate per cent of their gross revenue from customers in the area. Coast Electric, whose headquarters building is in the annexed area, will be assessed in the future for real estate by the city and by the Public Service Commission for its lines.

Discussions are in progress to establish the Pollution Prevention Fund. The property in 70 feet wide and 800 deep and may be able to hold up to 70 cars. The city owns a 10-foot wide building area Court Street behind the

Forestry, planting to curb sand are topics

John O. Moore of Wiggins, information and education director of the Mississippi Forestry Commission, was guest speaker at the Area Development Committee meeting Monday evening in Gulf National Bank's civic room.

The discussed attitudes of citizens regarding forestry and forest management and what the project will do to create a greater appreciation of native trees as well as its value towards creating scenic parkways in coastal Mississippi.

Jack Dierker spoke in reply to the committee's question of about a recreation area in the buffer zone.

Revised plans prepared by Torrance Votaw, for the parkway along Rt. 607 will be displayed.

Send instruction on proper property in Waveland and Bay St. Louis was discussed. Charles Dickens and Gus Elmer will study the possibility of plant material that might do the work. The area and method of planting including right of way will be looked into by this department of the committee.

(Cont. from Page 1-A.) Mr. H.C. Dean and Dolph Kellar told association members what state and federal authorities had not approved the ruling and Wier was delegated to approach these officials and ask for reconsideration of the ruling, although Wier said this could be added later. Also present was Bruce McKay, assistant director of the state highway department. The supervisor said they would approve the ruling if stayed by state and federal bureau. Wier is to report back to the board at Monday's meeting.

Bond issue...

(Cont. from Page 1-A.) The balance in the bond and interest fund is $144,988.68. With this balance carried forward plus revenues coming in monthly from tax collection it would be more than sufficient to absorb any deficit caused by the issuance of $300,000 at an interest rate of 4.1 per cent.

Although no vote was taken, the trustees appeared in accord with president Otero that operating Hancock North Central to more than a one-man job and that actively appointed attendance center principal, Robert B. Clapp, should have one or two assistants. Lorenson quoted Clapp as having said he thought he could do the job by himself but others noted that someone was needed to pursue all channels of revenue from the government and agreed Clapp was well qualified for this purpose. Hill said he thought checking into and obtaining federal funds from all sources was a full-time specialist's job.

Otero noted that the school had always had two principals and asked if the trustees wished to challenge those positions. Receiving no reply, Otero noted that Lorenson was advised to notify Clapp to be on the lookout for suitable men.

Clifford Lorenson, who attended the meeting saying he was interested in the principal job at North Central, was advised to contact Clapp at the board was using a "back-of-the-hand" and that Clapp was No. 1 man there.

Lorenson said he is presently in the St. Bernard-Chalmette, La., school system as head of the out-of-state department and is studying for his M.A. degree in education. He formerly taught at the University of Georgia and attended the old Selma school.

Doris Nazzari of Standard asked that the newspaper clear up any misconception regarding Earl Lee's current duties—that he is not head of the education department.

A transportation supervisor Lee recommended hiring of the following bus drivers at the current pay scale: Gary Robert, Helen Morris, Helen Green, Marlene Lerner, Oscar Blum, Rich Palmer, Larry Smith, Van Leach, Emilio Lerner, Rita Mae Lerner, Gerald Nazzari, James Ferguson, Elvin Lee, Frank Moran and Jay Warner, Jr.

They were approved by the board and Lee noted there were three more openings.

Mrs. Catherine Jungler was recommended by Lorenson and approved as junior high science teacher at North Central. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Benge of Bay St. Louis.

CANDIDATE FOR STATE REPRESENTATIVE, HERBERT L. STIEFFEL TAKES DELIVERY OF HIS NEW CHEVROLET.

In my position as State manager of Large Company, I travel a great deal and need a reliable, comfortable, and economical transportation, as well as wanting to make a good impression on my customers. Also, in my forthcoming campaign, I intend covering a lot of ground. I decided I needed a Chevrolet.

After having my Company obtain prices from all the New Orleans Chevrolet dealers, I contacted Arthur Tipping at Gerry Lane Chevrolet, Inc., and he gave me the best deal, so I bought a home, where all of us should.

This is the seventh car or truck I have bought from Mr. Tipping - this speaks for itself in the treatment and service I have received.

Quarlet's vacation over

A two week vacation, financed by bogus checks, of two known criminals and their two female companions ended abruptly last Wednesday when they were arrested by Sheriff Sylvia Lerner at Driftwood Motel after they attempted to pay for their room with a worthless check.

Lerner said the arrest came after Dallas Harrington, manager of the Driftwood, discovered a check given him by one of the guests proved worthless. He identified the man as Roderick J. Baker, Jr., 27, and Donald Frederick Minger, both of Minneapolis; and the woman as Lynn K. Pineda, 25, and Jean DeFoe, 25, of Duluth. Minger was using the name of Johnnie Pineda.

An investigation by Lerner, Max Landerman, FBI agent, and George Sutton of the Highway Patrol, revealed that Minger is wanted for a $500 burglary in Everett, Wash., and kidnapping bond, and that Baker is a parole violator from Everett.

Frank Landrum

It is a privilege in this review of progressive citizens and firms that have been such a great aid to the growth and development of this section of the area to place such a man as Mr. Frank Landrum of the Bilbao Battery Co. at 420 Poyard in Bilbao on an equal plane with all others in this review.
He, who is recognized as one of the more reliable business men of this district, remains that distinction in the recognition of his friends.

Also, interest in and the valuable assistance he has rendered to many projects of a civic nature reflect the principle which he has always so successfully applied in his business affairs.

We congratulate Mr. Frank Landrum and sincerely hope that his career will be as successful and successful in the years ahead as it has been in the short time in which he has been with the Bilbao Battery Co.

S. L. Fayard

It is appropriate that we include in this review of progressive businessmen Mr. S.
L. Fayard of Fayard Real Estate and Insurance Agency at 126 East Howard Ave., in Bilbao.

Aside from his business activities he has always shown an interest in civic affairs and city progress and has backed up contributions to many projects which have benefited Bilbao and the surrounding area.

His help along these lines has made him an example of the type of man we all appreciate. We congratulate and enter on behalf of all citizens interested in better business and civic progress, sincere appreciation for his contributions to the general welfare of the city, with the Fayard Real Estate and Insurance. We recommend him to our readers as a progressive business man of whom we are all proud.

Mrs. Ruby Donohoe

In order to be a sincere believer of a community usually takes courage and plenty of optimism and Mrs. Ruby Donohoe of the Bay Vista Beauty Salon Pass Road in Bilbo, possesses both of these qualities.

She has proved very ably that she is an operator of more than average ability. It is largely due to the method of management of the business that the Bay Vista Beauty Salon holds its high position in the public's favor.

Her necessary, however, will not permit her to say the things about herself which are said by friends, who would tell you that Mrs. Ruby Donohoe professional conduct to a credit to her sense of honor.

We compliment her for the fine manner in which she operates her business and wish for her continued success.

Robert L. Brent

We find that Bilbo owes much to those progressive citizens who have taken an active part in the growth and progress of the city, and who have helped to make it the business center for this part of the state.
In mentioning some of the people, it is only fair to include Mr. Robert L. Brent of the Bilbao Marble Works, at 117 East Water in Bilbo.

He deserves a great deal of credit for his success in both business and civic activities and he contributes more than his share toward the building up of a greater Bilbo. Robert is willingly deservant of our sincere praise, and these few words of commendation are but a just recognition for the many activities conducted on behalf of the general welfare of the community. We trust that he will continue to serve Bilbo and vicinity for many years.

B. J. Stallone

We wish in this edition to pay tribute to Mr. B. J. Stallone of Beauty's Drive-In Restaurant at 2038 Poyard Road, in Hundsbere, for his many contributions to the growth and development of this section of the area, and his appreciation of achievements in the business life of the city.
Mr. Stallone probably has as wide a circle of friends as any other person we could name because he is just naturally the kind of person who makes friends with almost everybody and always shows sincere interest in his work with Beauty's Drive-In Restaurant.

Mr. B. J. Stallone may be described as, and his contributions to the people are too many to number to be described here. It may be resultant to say that we consider him a progressive business person of whom this city may be proud.

Ancie B. Patrick

Ancie B. Patrick of Patrick Nursing Home, at 1808 Pass Road, in Hundsbere has proven her progressiveness by constantly adding to and increasing the service which she has rendered to the public.
The types of business handled by her service has service to her to use just a word, but it is certainly to be rendered to the public to the fullest extent of her ability.

In addition to the close attention to business affairs, she has never been to dodge civic responsibilities, and her help in these matters is always cheerfully given.

She has many friends in and around the city and it is a pleasure to bring her before our readers in this review of progressive businessmen and women who have helped the city.
We congratulate her on her success in her field of business.

The Baricev's

There are many men in their chosen fields who have gained recognition for the progressive manner in which they have conducted their business but who will not permit much to be said of their achievements.

In reviewing a group of such citizens we must include R. L. J.P., and J.F. Baricev of Baricev's Restaurant and Lounge at 633 Central Beach Blvd. in Bilbo. They have always done their work effectively even though it has been accomplished in an unobtrusive manner, and have made rapid strides in business in Bilbo.

The Baricev's, busy as they are, always managed somehow or other to do their bit in city movement calculated to benefit the community as a whole.

We do not hesitate to recommend Mr. R.L. Baricev, J.
P. Baricev, and J. F. Baricev to our readers as one who continues at all times to work to the advantage of the people of Bilbo and vicinity.

Ronie Krohn

Conveniently located in Bilbo, at 455 East Division in Mayers Super Market.

This popular business carries a complete line of A grade groceries and through his fair handling of all things business and the high quality and fair prices constantly offered, he has won an enviable reputation throughout this section.

The people of this territory and the adjacent areas, have come to know Mayers Super Market as a very high rating business in Bilbo. It may be truly said that this business is a valued asset to the community.

One of the essential features is that it will stand no matter what problems it may meet. The come to trust of the reputation of any business firm and that is why Mr. Ronie Krohn and Mayers Super Market enjoys an ever increasing volume of business and popularity.

Elva M. Threesh

Our issue of today proposes to call the attention of our readers to some of those progressive business and civic-minded people who are contributing their share of time and energy to the building up of Pass Christian and the surrounding territory to the position of prominence which it enjoys at present.

And one whom we wish to call to the attention of our readers, is Elva M. Threesh of Beauty's House of Beauty, at 102 Davis Ave., in Pass Christian.

She is at all times conscious of her civic responsibilities and may be depended upon to meet in every detail the many opportunities which present themselves to be of service to the city.

The record of achievement of Elva's House of Beauty are certainly one of which she may well be proud. Her value to the city and this district in an established firm and we haven't given her credit which is justly due.

H. J. "Hugo" Runge

Good restaurants are undoubtedly indispensable in the progress and development of a growing community such as Bilbo and Hugo's Italian Restaurant and new office Lounge, at 1225 West Division in a perfect example of such a building. It is not only known throughout the Bilbo area, but is accepted throughout the whole country of America as being excellent by name.

Most of the credit for the splendid reputation of this establishment is due to the using of the finest ingredients.
Mr. H. J. Runge, Nothing is truer for granted, nothing is deeper, courtesy and service to the byword of all employees.

It is a pleasure to say these few words of praise about the Hugo's Italian Restaurant and New Office Lounge.

The Peterman Bros.

Richard and Carroll Peter-man of the West Beach Shell Service Station at 3916 West Beach in Gulfport, are two of these progressive business people, who have done their bit to maintain the prestige of the city of Gulfport, as a leading metropolis of this section of the state. They are interested in the development of the city and their many services are worthy of sincere appreciation.

Their well-earned success as business people are easily understood, having on the people's side their wide-spread reputation for their honesty which characterizes all of their business dealings. It is a combination of technical knowledge, mechanical skill and business ability, which has elevated Richard and Carroll Peterman to a position of leadership in this particular field.

We compliment them on their accomplishments and sincerely wish for their continued success.

Stewart R. McVay, Sr.

Bilbo owes much to those progressive citizens who have taken an active part in the growth and progress of the city, and who have helped to make it the business center for this part of the state. In mentioning some of the people, it is only fair to include Mr. Stewart R. McVay, Sr., of McVay Crab Pot Shop, at 1021 West Railroad Street,
in Bilbo.

He deserves a great deal of
credit for his success in both
business and civic activities, and has contributed more than his share toward the building up of a greater Bilbo.

He is truly deserving of our sincere praise and these few words of commendation are but just recognition for the many activities he has conducted on behalf of the general welfare of the community. We trust that he shall continue to serve Bilbo and vicinity for many years and to aid in those civic affairs which he feels are deserving of support.

Clyde E. Hicks

A good job well done by a businessman with an extensive background of technical knowledge not only gives a feeling of security to the person hiring the work done, but it adds to the prestige of the business doing the job.

That's the story of the success of the Hick's Homes Inc., at 1818 Pass Road, and its owner, Mr. Clyde E. Hicks, General Contractor.

Much to the credit of this company is due to the flexibility and extensiveness of its qualifications in construction business.

No job is too large or too small for this business, and small jobs receive the same attention that the larger ones do.
They recognize what needs to be done and then attack the problem carefully and scientifically.

We are proud to mention Mr. Clyde E. Hicks, General Contr., of Hicks Homes Inc., in our Review.

V. J. Rosetti

Today we pay tribute to Mr. V. J. Rosetti of Rosetti Cafe at 1750 East Howard Ave.
in Bilbo.

He deserves a great deal of credit for his success in both business and civic activities.

Mr. Rosetti has a great knowledge of experience and it is largely due to his progressive methods coupled with his sound and practical ideas that the restaurant rates so highly in this area serving world famous Po-boy sandwiches.

He also does his share toward community improvement and is always willing to devote his time and energy to the promotion of any enterprise which will be of benefit to the community.

We are glad to say these few words of praise of a man who is successful in the management of the business who still finds time to devote to worthy civic projects.

Merle Blackwell

Another well-known businessman who has established an enviable record with the Sunrise Restaurant, at 1598 E.
Beach in Pass Christian.

Mrs. Blackwell is an asset to the community and plays an important part in the business and civic life of Pass Christian and the entire country. She is aware of her community and always willing to do her share in community improvement.

However we do congratulate the city of Pass Christian for numbering among its more progressive citizens such a woman as Mrs. Merle Blackwell and we sincerely hope that she will meet with the same success in the future which she has enjoyed in the past. And we recommend her to our readers as an honest and dependable businesswoman.

Miss Markey is to marry Mr. Baggett

Of local note is the forthcoming wedding of Miss Lynn Marie Markey, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. David D. Markey of Waveland, and James William Baggett, Jr., which will take place at 10 a.m. July 23 at St. Louis King of France Church in New Orleans. A reception will follow at a restaurant in the Crescent City.

The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Daniel Markey, Jr., of Metairie. Her fiancé's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Baggett, also of Metairie.

Miss Markey, who is currently attending Louisiana State University in New Orleans, is also a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew C. Anderson of Metairie.

Mr. Baggett is to receive his degree this month from Southeastern Louisiana College where he is a member of Delta Sigma Phi, men's intercollegiate fraternity.

Fishing in both Monticello and Lodi waters seems to be on the upswing and the local fishermen of the two communities of the two towns are enjoying the season.

We estimate 90 percent of local sports fishermen now use artificial bait instead of live bait. It is so much easier and does away with a lot of work in catching the shrimp. To us retired old folks work is a dirty word. We could sit long enough.

For those who like to fish with live bait, shrimp can be caught in small seines, between the bars out front at night or in the day time when they come in to the shore.

We're thinking of starting a Turn over Boat Club. Not to mention any names but a number of our local fishermen have turned their fishing boats over lately. This comes especially due to corrosion and big shot maneuvering with high speed motors. It's better to be safe and go fishing again. There are plenty of motor boat handling and you'll never be old to learn.

Remember this

Last week a leading citizen pointed out to us what a glowing future Bay St. Louis has. What he says is true. He recognized the fact that the streets are torn up but also pointed out that this is temporary, and based his opinion on what we have to look forward to.

Perhaps too frequently we have commented in these columns about things that need to be done. The other viewpoint is we must recognize and not fail to mention the good future of this area.

When our friend commented that the condition of the streets is just temporary, he made good sense. Let's all remember that!

For a new city

The current issue of General Electric's house organ, Forum, has stirred our imagination. In an article by James Rouse they bring up the question "How a totally new city for 100,000 people is being created."

Half a dozen years ago, we began in our company asking ourselves seriously the kinds of questions we all wonder about from time to time: Why can't a city be built that respects both man and nature, a place of grace and beauty, in scale with a man, his wife and family, their church and school and business and shops? Might it not be very profitable indeed to build a good environment instead of a poor one?

Prodded by our questions, we began to make economic models of a city of 100,000 people. How many primary jobs would it take to support the population? How many secondary, following jobs, would this account for in store clerks, teachers, doctors, ministers? How many schools? How many churches? How many retail lumber yards and playgrounds and automobile service stations?

A $99 Million Program

We came to the conclusion that it would take 12,000 to 15,000 acres; that it would cost $20 million to $25 million to buy the land; and everything we could do would be enormously profitable indeed to undertake it. But here we reached this dilemma of America—and of the city-building process—that neither our company nor any other developer in America has the resources to undertake the task.

But armed with our data and with the conviction that there was a unique compatibility between public purpose and private profit, we went to the Connecticut General Life Insurance Company, and in 1963, Connecticut General committed $18 million later increased to $23 million the largest single investment in its history, to join with us in the attempt to build a new city.

Over the following nine months, we acquired 165 separate farms and parcels of land, 14,000 acres in all—nearly 10 per cent of Howard County, midway between Baltimore and Washington. Here we planned a new city called Columbia. We obtained zoning and in December, of 1965, the Teachers Insurance and Annuity Association and The Chase Manhattan Bank joined Connecticut General in making a total of $50 million available to refinance the land purchase and to carry forward the land development program.

163,000 People by 1990

We are now under development in Columbia, and we will open the city to its first residents this summer. It is scheduled for completion as a city of 100,000 people by 1990. It will not be a new suburb but a complete new city. It will provide employment for 30,000 people in its plants, offices, stores, and institutions. It will provide housing for 30,000 families, ranging from high-rise apartments to 10-acre lots, priced to serve the company janitor as well as the company president.

It will have 50 schools and 70 churches, a college, hospital, and library system. It will be a city consisting of small villages of 10,000 to 15,000 people each, with its own schools, churches, stores, and services, centered in a village green. The towns will be separated—and linked—by 3,200 acres of permanent open space. Five lakes, which are being built in stream valleys, forests, 20 miles of hiking trails, parks, and recreation areas will interlink the entire city.

Downtown will have a 20-acre lake on its front yard, and a 50-acre forest on its side. This town will be connected to one another and the downtown, and to employment centers, by a bus system running on its own right-of-way, separated from automobiles and automobiles.

As a part of the process by which we have produced the plan and the development program, we identified the characteristics of the land that should be preserved in building a new city. We made an overlay after overlay, showing the location of every stream and stream valley, every forest, every lake, every significant vista, every historic building, every tree-lined lane. We let the things that ought to be preserved touch us, say it loudly, in order that we could locate development in the areas that were appropriate for development.

At the same time, we entered into a process of seeking to discover what aspects of people should influence the shape of the city. We weren't satisfied that architects, planners, developers, and bankers had ultimate wisdom about the shape of cities, so we drew together a work group of some 14 people from Johns Hopkins, a psychologist, a sociologist, and authority in communications from the University of Michigan, the city manager of Oakland, California, the director of recreation of the city of Philadelphia, educators, ministers, social scientists. For these were people who knew about people and worked with people, and who, working through an systems approach to community development, could provide the same influences on the shape of the city as a knowledge of the land itself can produce.

Exploding Old Myths

(There's not a building yet in Columbia. Ten miles of roads are under construction, dams are being built, buildings are being built, but no one is yet living there. But already some popular, important, and frustrating myths have been exploded.)

First, the "conventional wisdom" in the business in which we operate says that it is impossible to assemble land on the edge of a burgeoning metropolis to undertake such a plan. We did assemble the land, and in one of the fastest growing regions of the United States—midway between Baltimore and Washington, an area that builds 50,000 dwelling units a year.

Another myth would say that even if you could assemble the land, you couldn't finance the city, because the building industry has no way of financing it. Connecticut General, subsequently supported by Teachers and Chase, exploded that myth. The money was available to support the right plan.

And third, it would be said that even if you assembled the land and produced the financing, you couldn't zone it, because the people in the area would clobber you when you said you were going to build a city.

Within our land are existing little developments containing 8000 people. Despite their animosity and skepticism, we produced our plan for Columbia and laid it on the table, saying: "Here is a rational city; here the forests and stream valleys are preserved; there will be places to work and shop and have fun; here are stores and apartment houses." Here were all the things that these people had fought against until midnight in zoning hearing after zoning hearing. Yet when we went in for our zoning, not one single person in the county opposed it—not one.

New Hopes and Possibilities

But more important than the explosion of these myths, the idea of a new city has opened the minds of people to new possibilities, to new hopes, just because there is a chance for a fresh start.

1. School Locations

Today, if a county government is going to build a school, it has little choice but to find a site and build a big consolidated school, wait until development pockmarks the area, and then try to fit the children.

By planning in advance, we have been able to locate an elementary school in the heart of every neighborhood; a junior high school and high school at the heart of every village. Every child in Columbia can walk or ride a bike to school. The children can also walk or ride a bike to a stream to fish; to a library to get a book; to a music lesson; to a store to shop; to a movie; to the theatre. Everything is within their range without having to fight traffic to get there.

The county has approved this school system, and has already located 50 schools to be built over the next 15 years in the hearts of these neighborhoods and villages. And the county has also located a community college at the heart of downtown to provide an extra top priority of public education and to concentrate on new opportunities in vocational training which become so important in a period of rapid technological change.

2. Cultural Program

We used to say when we explained the program as to the size of the city at 100,000 people, we wouldn't have a big league ball club or symphony orchestra, but we would have most of the rest of a city. The very first contract we signed in Columbia was a 20-year contract with the Baltimore Symphony, to provide 30 concerts a season in the music pavilion in the heart of downtown Columbia.

The environment that is being created in the opportunity to participate in the arts and culture have stimulated local institutions in the music and theatre to join in a tremendous program of cultural enrichment for Columbia.

3. Health Services

The Johns Hopkins Medical Institute has agreed to examine with them what might happen if we approached the whole community with the idea of the sources and causes of health, instead of the remedy for disease. This has resulted in a new program announced interest in providing a community-wide health care program for Columbia, by which every resident would have the opportunity on a voluntary basis to make a monthly payment to Johns Hopkins and receive in exchange complete health care from home nursing services to family medical practice, to hospitalization.

Johns Hopkins would also provide leadership in programs of health education in the schools and churches, and among the families. The hope is that they can take some of the dollars that are now spent on the crisis stages of medical care, out them into education and early warning stages, and with the same dollars produce a healthy community instead of just treating a sick one.

4. Religious Cooperation

The churches, faced with the opportunity for a fresh start, have joined together at the national and local level. Twelve major Protestant denominations have approved the setting up of a Religious Facilities Corporation to own all the church buildings. All the ministers will report to a cooperative ministry, share offices, staff, buildings of religious instruction, and counseling programs.

Cardinal Shehan has designated six Catholic priests to meet with six Protestant ministers to determine what the maximum participation of the Catholic church may be with the Protestant churches. The head of the parochial school system has proposed eliminating parochial schools in Columbia, and joining with the Protestants in supporting buildings of religious instruction alongside the public schools on a released time system.

The importance here is that education, cultural, health, and religious institutions, faced with a fresh opportunity, have shoved aside the old roadblocks.

Replanning Older Cities

Our experience is transferable, to small towns of 10,000, 20,000, 50,000, or to major cities—of 250,000 to 500,000. It's transferable, too, to the replanning of the older cities. We continue to fight the symptoms of disease in our older cities, without getting at the source of the disease itself. If we adopted a rational process in replanning our cities, we would begin by asking what function they perform. We'd acknowledge their role of receiving the in-migrant from the South and from Appalachia. We'd stop trying to sweep them under the rug, and begin to ask questions. How do you receive such people? How do you create an educable environment for them?

But today we start by trying to solve problems of congestion and overcrowding without really getting to the root questions about what kind of society we are seeking to build.

What is important in all this is direction. It's the process by which cities are planned; it's planning out from the real needs of people; it's planning to solve the problems of urban life rather than to create them.

What will the next America look like? Clearly we have a choice. We have a choice between massive, oppressive, sprawling, inhuman, disordered cities, and places that are in scale with people, that respect the land and offer a rich variety of opportunity for recreation, culture, entertainment, education—communities in which the institutions of school, church, and family can support one another; communities in which a man, his wife and his family can feel comfortable, important, responsible.

We stand today as the most powerful and prosperous nation in the history of the world. We have reached a point perhaps never reached by man, in which it is sometimes said that we have the capacity to solve any problem that we can define; that we have the capacity to do whatever it is we have the will to do. We can replace man with a computer. We can put a man on the moon. We can eliminate poverty.

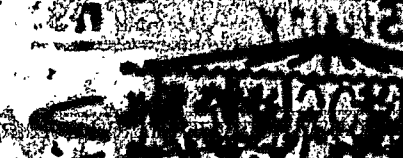

Is it too much for such a nation to expect that in the next America we will substitute for aimless and oppressive sprawl, and for the ragged, dirty, ugly, inhuman old cities of America, places of scale and beauty that are felicitous for the growth of inspired, creative, healthy, loving people?

With the background of that article and its success it bolsters our opinion that there is a solution to our big city problems but the solution involves moving people who live in problem areas away from the problem areas. If a politician openly supported this, all the bleeding hearts would rage. Our suggestion to those some bleeding hearts is that they read the article referred to as printed on this page.

We decided to buy a new car and started shopping around to find the right car at the right price. We changed 6 dealers in New Orleans and finally signed up at one dealer thinking we had bought a car - only to return and find that the price had been raised $100.00. After talking to them over and over in this dealership we finally got our money back and came home. We decided to shop our New Chevrolet dealer here at home and found we could get a better price here, plus having service and having a home to keep our money here in Hancock County - so recommend Wally Valcott to our friends as he came up with the right car at the right price.

Polly poem

We had no much fun going through an old, old Echo and comparing prices, and looking at the present era, that we decided to check the prices of 1947, to see just what changes had occurred in Hancock County, area and ad wise, in the past 20 years. The price of a gallon of gas, only $1.88 a gallon, almost $2.00, is close to what it was before going any further... that was 'til we got to a 47 Chevrolet, more or less. The columnist, writing under the name of Jay Whoot, held down the left hand column of Page 1, and the hit was called Observations Around Town, Jay, (and by the way, who knows his real name?) commented upon pre-election excitement, Mother's Day, of course; mentioned that the Sunshine Ice Cream Parlor and Candy Shop had replaced the Bay Pool Parlor, current charity driven and the like, but his pet topic was improving the appearance of the downtown Beach front. . . hummm, come on if we've heard that song before, frequently and recently.

Back in the swing years

Also on page 1 Sam Pava and Johnny Egloff announced candidacy for the post of clerk of court; Cornelius Ledner applied to the office of circuit clerk in the 4th district and Kenneth McCarty asked Mo how late the race for superintendent of Hancock County G.V. Blalock stated firmly that all dogs running loose after June 1 would be destroyed, another rather familiar tale. Also of interest were names of rulers of Spring Festival, Shirley Ledner, (now Mrs. Roland LaFontaine) and Ora Breckman resigned as Bay High Gaysel Gex was queen of the SJA race with Georgia Race Stahler on her maid of honor, and Mica Lee Adelle Pava, a golden crown stop her treacher, solemnly crowned the Blalock Virgin at the annual procession at Our Lady of the Gulf. A brief note announced that Miss Collins Adkins' first grade pupils were to repeat their annual play, The Wedding of Jack and Jill. Edna included notes to the effect that Mr. and Mrs. Alden Hafford and son Larry were among those celebrating the 100th birthday which must have been Holiday on Ice, in the Crescent City, and a certain gentleman from Natchez, Larry McFarland had been the weekend guest of Mr. and Mrs. R.J. Rollins and daughters.

So much for 1947, we just thought that readers might be as interested as we in a certain parallel of behavior and thinking that seems to have changed very little in 20 years.

Good news - Betty (Mrs. Fred) Rose who has been plagued with so much trouble, having been hospitalized at length for treatment of a back injury, and finally having major surgery, seems to be experiencing a change in luck. Betty won $1,000 in the March Game at the A & P last Friday.

Double happy birthday greetings are on the way to twins Marguerite (Mrs. Dick) Medina and Rita (Mrs. M.J. Jr.) Wolfe who celebrated at Bay-Waveland Yacht Club on Friday, May 5.

Welcome to the Rosses

We're just getting around to welcoming Mr. and Mrs. Elmer C. Ross to the Bay. They moved into their Ulman Avenue home about a year ago. Mr. Ross, who was born and educated in New Orleans, held the position of general auditor with Federal Barge Lines until 1958 when the line was leased to a private shipyard in St. Louis, Mo. He accepted the position of assistant treasurer with this firm and, remained with them until his retirement last year. Moving to the Bay wasn't just an impulse with the Rosses as they purchased their home here in 1959.

Betty and Arthur Smith are just back since the departure of their grandson, Gena, Jr. Gena and his mother Joyce left for California Friday after Joyce was notified that her mother, sister and step father had been injured in an automobile accident. She'll remain with her parents until Gena returns from Vietnam where he is stationed with the U.S. Navy.

After missing seeing Jackie and Frank Janore's pride and joy, two-month-old Eliza, on several occasions, we finally bumped into the family at lunch Saturday and she's everything her parents said she was - a really beautiful baby.

Great times Carmen Mitchell and Nellie Lofgren combined talents to baby sit with nephews Sheldon Sussman's day twins on Friday and seemed to enjoy their duties thoroughly.

Marie (Mrs. James) McArthur and Al Lamba walked off with top honors in men's and women's city bowling Championships competition.

55th affair

Last week's department - 66 gathered to help Mr. and Mrs. Ory Ledner of Lakeview celebrate their 55th wedding anniversary on Sunday, Apr. 29. The family attended mass at St. John's Catholic Church, then ate gumbo, ham, fried chicken, turkey, praline salad, wedding cake and lots of other goodies at the Ledner home. Rev. John Downey, Elva and Curdo Ledner, June and Orlo Ledner, Myrda and Melvin McCordle, Eula May and Billy Ouburn, Betty and Frank Lombardo, Eunice Boudin, Alice and Bobby Boudin and Alice's mother, Lela Mauriel, and offspring of the above mentioned, were among those present.

Which brings about a mark note. Alice and Bobby Boudin are overjoyed as they expect their first visit from the big bird come October.

June and Harold Hix are also on the court's itinerary, and will just back their prospective grandmother Jenny (Mrs. Frank) Trepant has already begun making fancy, tiny garments.

The pretty new Gulf National Bank employee to Gayle Egan of Pearlridgea, before returning to more or less her native habitat, Gayle worked in New Orleans banks for seven years.

Cleo (Mrs. Joe) Smith was faced at a going away luncheon by fellow Tennessee Gov. wives. The party was held at Ray's on Wednesday, May 3.

But Maroon last last week for his European vacation. May be, he'll send some of those framed postcards from Paris!

Noville (John) Jacob became ill last Tuesday and spent four days in Hancock General Hospital before being transferred to Gulfport Memorial on Sunday. He's in room 135, just in case anyone wants to cheer him up and we're certain he'd enjoy receiving a few get well

DELBERT McARTHUR PREPARES TO DRIVE HIS NEW CAMARO AS HE ACCEPTS KEYS FROM FRITZ PERANICH.

I decided I wanted a new Camaro. I didn't shop around as I wanted something different in color and this was Camaro. My brother George had shopped around several places and got the best deal at our new Chevrolet Dealership in Bay St. Louis. George was real pleased with his salesman Fritz Peranich who did everything possible to make his buying a pleasure. I found the same courteous, friendly attitude there as my brother did and I bought at home rather than somewhere else.

Mary and Hank Evans, he a former Echo sports editor, came over from the Crescent City on Friday to see how John was faring.

Lucille Bishop appeared in public Friday after spending the last few weekends supervising repairs and renovations on her Washington Street home.

Concert notes

Quite a large crowd showed up at Bay High spring band concert on Friday night. The guest soloist Raymond Young, a noted euphonium artist scored quite a hit. He was enthused over the concert, but even more enthusiastic over a fishing trip in his newly acquired boat. He was to drive back to Hattiesburg Friday night, pick up the boat and companions and return to the coast bright and early Saturday. Just a few seen in the audience were Ann and Ed Porter and Mrs. P.E. Porter; Janet and Jimmy Deas, Mr. and Mrs. S.O. Hastings, Jimmy McDonald, Professor Marcel and Marice La Nasa, Jane and Owen Williams, Mrs. Lynn Rutherford, Ellen Payne, Part and Gene Burke, Al Summy, Emily and Rene de Montluzin, Ann and John Wheeler, etc., etc.

Fishing

Despite recent bountiful precipitation the water seems to be in pretty good shape. Ray Kidd caught some big trout on Saturday.

Post baptism

Kitty and Otto Mollere's perfect-for-a-party home was the scene of one of the larger gatherings of the season. The event was given by Margie and John Auderer in celebration of the baptism of the newest Mollere, Paul Joseph which took place at St. Clare's on Sunday with John as godfather and Gail Mollere as godmother. A large cake, white decorated with pale blue was in the center of one of the serving tables, a champagne fountain, on another, and mounds of delicious food including ham, turkey, shrimp, oyster patties, egg rolls, some exotic desserts and lots of dips and sauces, on yet another. Brother Luma, who is Phil Lagasse's real brother, came over from Thibodaux for the occasion, and just some others present were Mary and Robert Ladner from Pass Christian, Carol and Andy Martindell, Mary Stock, Buck Ladner, Delores and Sonny Hays, Myrt and Mike Hays, Louise Lynch, Hazel Herlihy, Mr. and Mrs. Norton Haas, Phil and Jimmy Lagasse, Kate and Roy Saux, Nancy and Lucien Gex, Eome

Mrs. Kelly's space hats pace entries

Mrs. John A. Kelly, Jr., won both the tri-color and sweepstakes prizes at last Wednesday's annual hat show and luncheon of Bay-Waveland Garden Club.

Mrs. Kelly's two entries conformed most closely to the show's theme, Millinery on the Moon. One creation used oleanders in two shades to form a space helmet, the other common vegetables — a crescent shaped cucumber for the moon and small white onions to form our man on the moon.

Judges were Mmes. Jackson Balch, Frank Kiefer and J.C. Baxter.

Winners in the Moonlight class were, Mmes. Dan Russell, Jr., Philip Daniel and Frank Hille, Jr.

In class 2, Moonstruck, were Mmes. Kelly, Frank Ryder and John Pritchett.

Class 3: Moon Madness winners were Mmes. Kelly, Julian Lorenzen and Joseph Viguerie, Jr.

Chairman for the event was Mrs. J. H. Duggan, Jr., co-chairman, Mrs. John P. Stern, Mrs. Hilatre D. Ogden was commentator. Mrs. C.R. Boyer was luncheon chairman.

Cockshott, she came "stog" as Basil is in Hot Springs (stoking away a few ashes and pain); Sterling Balaski, Louise and Dave Markey, Jane Mollere, Catherine and Wimpy Griffin, Amelita (Mrs. Gerald, Jr.), Price, Ann and Henry Develle, Claire and A.J. Frey, who drove over from New Orleans; Pudge and George Huth and Pudge's mother; they came from Long Beach, and many, many others.

Roy Povall, better known as Elmore when he worked for the Echo some six years ago, was the weekend guest of Joan and Red Glass. Roy has completed his tour of duty with the U.S. Navy and is to begin work on his master's degree at LSU.

Dot (Mrs. Jim) Mayfield gets a hope you're feeling better wish. She suffered a badly sprained back in a fall at her home last Tuesday.

SIGHTS AND SOUNDS ALONG THE WAY - Mimosa blossoms, fluffing out like large pink powder puffs; lush banks of wild ferns along roadways all over the countryside; a small girl riding a bicycle, followed by a parade of dogs of all colors, sizes and breeds, and the yip, yip barks as they veer from formation to pursue any hapless cat on their route.

Teen Times

End of school activities have local boys and girls all meeting themselves and going. One of the week's highlights was the Bay High School's third annual spring dance, held at 8 p.m. Friday in the Junior high gymnasium. An added attraction for the large and appreciative audience was Mr. Raymond Young, assistant director of bands at The University of Southern Mississippi and nationally known euphonium soloist, and just as important, a very personable and friendly young man. Mr. Michael Perrell, Bay High director, and Mrs. Perrell entertained informally as a buffet tapper at their Bay Royale Apartment, honoring Mr. Young and introducing him to band council Captain Greg Weger and officers Pam Pike, Carla Blochstein, Catechia Carter, Debbie MacCoubert, and Christa Loran.

Saturday night band moment and music enjoyed a bouquet at the new Commodore Room at the Commodore Hotel. Accompanied by Mr. Perrell was given a captured olive tree in appreciation of his work with the band. Mr. Perrell received a corsage on his center table and other boys each wore a boutonniere. A bit of each evening to in order to work out the final St. Joseph Academy Spring Festival with the theme, "The Glory that was Greece," was absolutely the most beautiful ever. Along about 10:30 time for an on-stage to Aldeo Dances, who was the selected All S.J. Aton award. We mustered and named another candidate Mallico Landa to witness. Some who participated were mentioned in last week's write-up, but candidates in the 1960s were not. Jumbo Arnold, Eladio Blasco, Pat Danvers, Kelly Hayden, Landa Hayco and Ezequiel Mond were Corral, Pasa Sengro's accompanist. Mary Orellana, no Pasa had no followers. Mrs. Susan Forry, Isaac Flynn, Martha Orellana, Valerio Lloyd, Pansy Nagel and Angelo Womhagami, Zeke, Shanna Lacey, was attended by Wally Amos, Brenda Belding, Brenda Gump, Sharon Ochoa, Mary Jo Jacob, Amy Lynch, Laurie Magerovich, Conita Guster and Cynthia Triviera. The Junior class was responsible for decorations, refreshments, entertainment and refreshments.

After the festival Dr. and Mrs. Charles Taylor entertained at a buffet in their Pasa Christmas home for girls and their cohorts, who were entertained over to the St. Joseph to dine.

Karla Williams, Bay High graduate who will be band director at Poplarville following her graduation from Utah, was in the audience at the Bay High band concert.

Major band songs Betty Adams, Janet Crow, Martha Rutherford and Nancy Swanson from the Bay, and Edna Hayes from Kila, played with the Pearl River Junior College band in a concert presented at Hancock North Central School on Tuesday, May 2.

Mike Fontaine is to be home after completing his freshman year at the University of Michigan. Enroute to the Bay he visited a cousin in Atlanta, Ga., and now Sue Porter and Jane Taylor, who are attending college there, are accompanying him.
